

‘Silence’ at The Connaught, Mayfair, London

Public realm improvements

In 2010, this remarkable sculptural water feature designed by celebrated Japanese artist, architect and philosopher, Tadao Ando, was unveiled. We oversaw the tree protection during the installation, ensuring that two centerpiece London plane trees survived and thrived to complement the wider public realm improvements to the adjacent Mount Street and Carlos Place.

Project partners: The Maybourne Hotel Group, Grosvenor Britain & Ireland & Westminster City Council

Trees: Mark Wadey

Issues:

- Excavating in RPAs
- Structures in RPAs
- Place making
- Creative problem solving
